

LMRFC Social Media Policy

A core group of people (such as committee and specific sub-committee members) are authorised to speak on behalf of Lytchett Minster Rugby Football Club (LMRFC) however most of us will speak about rather than on behalf of LMRFC – using social media. As members, officials, parents/guardians and players we are all part of this dynamic conversation. Social media is of great benefit to us as individuals and as a club – we are all using social media such as WhatsApp, Facebook and Twitter to keep in touch and find out what is going on. There are a few things to keep in mind to ensure that we always apply common sense in our use of social media:

Children online

The RFU safeguarding toolkit states that the RFU “positively encourages parents and spectators to take photographs of participants to celebrate the ethos and spirit of the sport.” At LMRFC we want to encourage the sharing of photographs, match reports and information using common sense and decency regarding content when it comes to our younger players. LMRFC’s commitment to safeguarding our children includes online safety. Personal information which can lead to a child being identified (schools/full names/nicknames/addresses/emails/etc.) should never be used. LMRFC parents have given their consent for photographs/videos to be shared with such imagery always being centred on the activity or the team; NOT one individual.

Should any parent/guardian prefer that photographic images of their child, in accordance with the above, are NOT used then they are invited to inform the LMRFC Safeguarding Team ( Current Club Safeguarding Officer : Richard Hull Mob. No. 07745811823) at the start of the season or when their child joins LMRFC. Please see the 2022 LMRFC Photography Policy for further details.

LMRFC adopts the RFU social media guidelines for clubs as set out below:

Social networking, such as WhatsApp, Twitter, Facebook, internet blogs and other online sites, offers tremendous opportunities for rugby to communicate and engage with a growing audience as well as its existing members, supporters and players.

The RFU is keen to promote the safe and responsible use of social networking technology but also to make its members aware of the potential risks and to share knowledge relating to best practice.

Participants should be aware that comments which bring the game into disrepute, or are threatening, abusive, indecent or insulting, may lead to disciplinary action.

Comments that include a reference to a person's ethnic origin, colour, race, nationality, faith, gender, sexual orientation or disability may attract a high disciplinary sanction.

Comments can also attract civil and criminal action. Nearly 5,000 offences involving Facebook and Twitter were reported to police in 2012 and 653 people charged.

General guidance

- These are public forums, so treat them as such
- Individuals and organisations are strictly responsible for any posting on his/her/their account/s
- Re-posting or re-tweeting inappropriate content represents an endorsement of that content and can be actionable
- Do not use abusive, derogatory, vulgar or sexual language
- Do not criticise or imply bias in match officials
- At all times, exercise discretion and respect for clubs, players, fans and the game's partners
- Deleting or apologising publicly for an improper posting does NOT prevent disciplinary action being taken
- Consider "protecting" Tweets and changing security/visibility of Facebook accounts

Clubs and Constituent Bodies

Clubs and Constituent Bodies (CBs) should be aware that they can be vicariously liable for material published by employees in the course of their employment, for example on an official website, Facebook site or Twitter feed, or published by employees outside work via a work email address or a work Twitter handle.

Clubs can also be liable for third party comments and postings made in their website forums or on their Facebook pages.

At LMRFC we follow RFU recommendations that clubs and CBs:

- Clearly identify who is responsible for posting and maintaining social networking and internet sites
- Set standards for content generated in line with the RFU's Core Values and the guidelines above
- Establish protocols for monitoring output, moderating content in online forums and removing offensive postings
- Hold members to account for any breaches

Safeguarding

The RFU's Safeguarding Policy advises against coaches having direct personal communication with children unless in exceptional circumstances and coaches and club officials should not communicate with children through social networking sites such as Facebook and Twitter, nor should they be "friends" with children or comment on their status.

The RFU works closely with the NSPCC's Child Protection in Sport Unit, which provides comprehensive guidance and resources relating to this issue here

Players and officials

Individuals need to understand that they are personally responsible and liable for their comments and postings. At all times you should exercise discretion and be respectful of other players, teams, officials, organisations and brands. What you regard as "banter" could be regarded as embarrassing or hurtful by a wider audience and bring the game into disrepute.

In short, follow the general guidelines above and:

- Don't comment if you have any concerns about the consequences
- Don't link to unsuitable content
- Don't get into disputes with audience
- Don't share or elicit personal detail

But

- Do show your personality and be approachable
- Do share your achievements
- Do let people know what it is like to be a player/official
- Do post regular comments to grow and engage with a wider audience.

AS A GENERAL APPROACH: BE THOUGHTFUL AND CONSIDERATE IN RELATION TO CONTENT AND AVOID HEAT OF THE MOMENT/REACTIONARY POSTS.

Respect copyright

Do not post content created by someone else (videos/documents/links) without checking that you have specifically been given permission to do so and have given credit to them – where possible include links to the original source. Be mindful of the copyright and intellectual property rights of LMRFC.
